Crunchfish sponsors Maria and Peter Berg's world championship efforts in coastal rowing

Maria and Peter Berg are two of the world's greatest coastal rowers. Maria is reigning European champion and nine-time Swedish champion, and Peter has won the world championship and the Swedish championship no less than 17 times. During this year, Maria and Peter will host two inspirational lectures about teamwork and exercise as well as an event in Helsingborg in late August where we will try out coastal rowing in Öresund.

"It is with great pleasure that Crunchfish sponsors Maria's and Peter's efforts towards the world championships in coastal rowing. It is so inspiring with people giving everything for their calling in life. Crunchfish will get manifold in return through lectures on teamwork and exercise, and memories for life when we try coastal rowing ourselves. I have been involved in the sport during the last years as speaker at the Swedish coastal rowing championships", says Joachim Samuelsson, CEO of Crunchfish.
